Brian Brushwood has been doing magic for years, and his SCAM school Youtube video channel currently has over 385,000 subscribers. It was a natural fit for him to bring his party magic to book form, and extroverts everywhere who want to be the "life of the party" are better for it. For this price, you might think this book would go cheap, but Brian delivers for his fans with this one! The book doesn't feel "cheap", with all the pages in color and the book itself seems like it could take a beating at a bar. The book covers about 70 magic tricks that are very simple to learn. With each one, the text is easy to read, the illustrations and pictures clear, and as an extra nice touch, there are QR codes that allow you to go directly to a video link. (You scan the QR code with your mobile device and it will take you to the video). I tested some of the QR codes and they worked without a hitch. This is really a great addition when teaching people magic tricks. There are three categories of tricks in the book by the way. These are called Openers, Tweeners and Closers by the author. Basically you work your way up with the beginning tricks requiring little audience participation, to the final "act" of really wowing those around you. The book is also just a great conversation piece to have on your bar or coffee table at home. Even if you're too shy to start performing magic on your own, try taking the book the next time you're going to a happy hour somewhere. It instantly got the tables next to ours coming over as we all tried doing the tricks in the book, and yes, it's great for meeting new people. (I can't attest to the claim that you'll "get the girl's phone number", but it's definitely fun and I'm sure you'll score a few free drinks.
